THE SENTINEL, having double the circulation IN THE CITY, and more than treble OUT OF IT, of any other paper here, renders it far the cheapest and most desirable medium in Milwaukee for all classes of Advertisements.

EVERY BUSINESS MAN who consults his own interest, will avail himself of the columns of THE DAILY SENTINEL,—especially when he can do so at the same prices charged by other papers, and secure more than double the advantage of circulation.

This is no boast, but EVERY WORD TRUE.

News Digest.

Senator SEWARD addressed an enthusiastic gathering of five or six thousand Republicans at Leavenworth, on Thursday. His speech on the occasion was one of the ablest ever delivered by him.

Senator DOUGLAS spoke at Indianapolis yesterday, and is announced to speak in Louisville, Ky., this evening.

A severe gale prevailed on Lake Ontario yesterday, doing considerable damage to the shipping.

It has been definitely ascertained that the schooner St. Mary foundered, with all on board, on the night of the Lady Elgin disaster.

POLITICAL POT-PIE.—Here is a copy of a bill issued by DOUGLASITES and BELL-EVERETTS, a few days ago:

GRAND UNION MEETING.—Mass meeting of the National Conservative men, at the city of Portsmouth, Sept. 21, 1860. Hon. J. J. Crittenden, Hon. W. Allen, Hon. David Todd, Gen. Leslie Coombs, Hon. W. H. Wadsworth, Hon. John Young Brown, Hon. C. Vallandigham, Col. P. Van Trump, Hon. J. Scott Harrison, Hon. George E Pugh, have been invited.

The construction of this bill is evidently the work of a master in political cookery.

The reader will observe how admirably the streaks of fat and the streaks of lean are put into the composition.

The general directions are—stir well before baking—and eat hot.

THE END JUSTIFIES THE MEANS.—We look upon Mr. Douglas' prospects as decidedly better now than they were before this union was consummated, and that justifies the course of his friends in the New York convention to it, in our estimation at least.—News of yesterday.

The bettering of DOUGLAS' prospects, justifies his friends in every act of dishonesty, no doubt. We have all along contended for this very point, and are now glad to see our neighbor frankly admit it.

PREMIUMS AT THE STATE FAIR.—Madison Engine No. 2, took a premium on filling tank.

Milwaukee Engine Co., No. 5, took one also on filling tank.

Equestrian Display—Miss CONSTOCK, Janesville, first premium.

Miss CRONK, Janesville, second premium.

Miss DENNISON, third premium.

Mrs. G. C. GUNN, Beaver Dam, fourth premium.

HOW IS THIS?—The Rochester N. Y. papers says say that there is an Irish Wide Awake Lincoln Club in that city numbering over two hundred men. It has been said that our Irish fellow citizens were all Democrats! Has the Know Nothing alliance disgusted them?

LORD RENFREW THROUGH THE LORGNETTE OF A YANKEE GIRL.—A Boston young lady, who has been enjoying her "first season" at the Clifton house, during the Prince's visit to Niagara Falls, gives a charmingly naive description of him, in a blithesome letter to a friend, which the Transcript publishes just as it came from her:

"On Saturday I saw the Prince walking in the most democratic manner. He trudged along in the middle of the road with Sir Edmund Head, the Duke of Newcastle, and other gentlemen. He wore light pants, very large, a blue sack coat, a tall white hat, and a turnover collar—and such whappingly big feet he has got! He went along in all the dust, and looks straight before him. He is short, and looks no more like the pictures in the shop windows of Boston, than I do; but very much like that photograph which Lizzie's uncle sent home from London. His equerries followed with horses, and he went to see the Falls, while we waited on the bank till he turned back, and we had another splendid view. He then went under the Fall, but soon came out, and mounted as quick as a wink, with his cane under his arm. The people cheered, and he raised his hat slightly and trotted off. He rides well. After dinner we got an old carriage, with holds in the bottom, to go and see Blondin walk across the river on stilts. The Prince was to be there, and we took a stand on Suspension Bridge, as being the best place to see the performance.

"Blondin's rope is a quarter of a mile long, and two hundred feet above the river, which roars and rushes along beneath with the most frightful noise. He had gone about half way when his foot slipped, and he fell, but sitting on the rope. It took him some time to get up, then to his feet, then on to one stilt, and then on to the other. He walked across without further accident, and the Prince left the place. I saw him while talking with his party, and he smiled often. His face is beautiful when he smiles, and looks very roguish."

A RAILROAD NOVELTY.—The new steam passenger car, spoken of last week, recently constructed for the Eastern railroad, and said to be intended for the road between this City and Boston, came over from Salem on Saturday, and attracted some attention at the Central station. It looked like an ordinary passenger-car, with two stove-pipes sticking through the top, and a bell suspended between them. It stands rather higher from the rail than any ordinary car, and the machinery is underneath, between the forward wheels. The boiler, fire-box, and water-tank occupy about eight feet of one end of the car, while the remainder contains seats for some fifty passengers. It is said to use only half the fuel required to do the same amount of work with an ordinary locomotive, while the wear and tear of the rail is much less, owing to the great reduction in weight, which is fifteen tons less than an ordinary locomotive. It is said to carry fuel and water sufficient for a run of fifty miles, while the speed is about the same as an ordinary locomotive. The time between Lynn and Salem was ten minutes. According to the Providence Journal, this machine is to be run on the Essex road, between Salem and Lawrence—but, according to common rumor, it is to be placed on the track between Lynn and Boston, when the horse railroad is put in opperation. We shall see what we shall see. —Lynn News.

INSECURITY OF LIFE IN PHILADELPHIA. Philadelphia was the theatre of a most cold-blooded assassination last Friday night—a murder fairly paralleling the Walton affair in this city. The victim in this case was Robert Crawford, a Scotchman, respectable and respected. A pistol-shot was heard in the direction of Norris square, at about ten o'clock, and a few minutes thereafter Mr. Crawford was found dead in the carriage way near the square. The cause of his death is believed to be a gunshot wound in the head. The bullet entered the mouth and passed up through the brain and out at the top of the head. The post mortem examination disclosed the fact that other violence had been resorted to, the cheek bone and upper jaw being fractured, evidently with some heavy weapon.

The victim is not known to have had an enemy in the world. It is conjectured that he was murdered for a paltry $100, believed to have been upon his person when he left home two hours previously. He leaves a wife and seven children. An arrest has been made, but the clue is so faint that little hope is entertained of getting at the real perpetrator of the fiendish deed.

Escape of Convicts—$200 Reward.

From the Waupun Times.

Yesterday afternoon, about three o'clock, Peter Willis and Frank Drum, convicts in the Wisconsin State Prison, escaped from that institution, and are now at large.—Willis was employed in the cell room; Drum was one of the force engaged in the shops. Drum feigned sickness and was given leave to go to the cell room. Instead of going there, however, he passed round into the front yard and down to the south-east wall-octagon, in which is an unoccupied and unfinished room, with a door opening into the yard, which he entered, and where he joined, or was shortly joined by Willis, who also had feigned sickness, and found his way to the same place.

In the octagon they changed their clothes, leaving their prison suits and putting on pants supposed to have been manufactured by Willis, from over-alls cribbed from the line, conveyed to his cell, torn to pieces, and made up anew, the like colored parts together. They then pried loose the lower end of a board on the fence near the octagon, and crawled through, letting the board drop back to its former place. They were seen to cross Madison street, just south of the Prison, by a couple of ladies, and to take their way, right speedily, across the lots, south easterly. It will be remembered that a couple of convicts in the Auburn, N. Y., Prison attempted to escape in very nearly the same manner some time since, and quite probably the perusal of the newspaper reports of that affair induced this escape. Neither the Commissioner nor his Deputy are censurable. The whole blame rests upon the guard stationed on the front fence, who had positive orders to allow no prisoner, except the one having charge of the front yard, to pass down in front of the prison, and who should have seen these boys, but, through listlessness, did not.

Willis is 15 years old, light complexion, lacks about an inch of being five feet high, and is somewhat pock-marked. He was sentenced by the Milwaukee Municipal Court in November, 1859, to three years imprisonment for burglary. He was serving his second term in this institution.

Drum was sentenced last April, by the same Court for a similar crime, to two years imprisonment. He is 19 years of age, five feet six and one-half inches high, light complexioned, and badly pock-marked. Looks older than he really is. This was his second term here, and twice he has been in other prisons.

A reward of two hundred dollars is offered for the return of both or one hundred dollars for either of the said convicts.

At the time of the escape, Com. Heg was in Madison, whither he had gone on the 11 o'clock train. He had been in the city but half an hour when he received a telegram announcing the escape. He took the first train to return, and arrived home this morning. Deputy Evans, when it was found the convicts had escaped, took immediate steps for their apprehension, sending men in pursuit, and circulating descriptions of the fugitives, and the Commissioner is now directing every effort in the same direction. They are hard cases, and we hope they will be re-taken

P. S.—Willis was caught by one of the prison guards, Schmidt, this P. M., about a mile this side of Greenbush, on the plank road. Drum was with Willis when overtaken, but though shot at several times by S., he managed to get out of sight of his pursuers.

Missouri State Fair—The Prince of Wales.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27—3 P. M.

The Fair grounds commenced filling at an early hour to day, the people being anxious to see the Prince of Wales, who accepted an invitation from Capt. Turner, President of the Agricultural Association, extended him in Canada, to visit the Fair. The party arrived on the grounds at noon, having driven through the streets in company with the Mayor and a few prominent citizens. There was considerable cheering when the Prince entered the arena, in acknowledgement of which he agreeably raised his hat. Passing around the arena, the Royal party alighted in the centre and ascended the second story of the pagoda, the band playing God Save the Queen, Hail Columbia and Yankee Doodle.

In half an hour the party descended to the grass platform, under the pagoda, and witnessed a display of cattle, and a contest for the $600 prize between eighteen splendid horses. Several prominent citizens of Missouri, including Hon. Edward Bates and Gov. Stewart, were presented at 1 o'clock to the Royal party, who lunched with the officers of the Agricultural Association, after which they returned to the middle of the arena, and the contesting horses entered the ring.

The awards were finally made as follows: Best roadster stallion, in harness, $500, to Silver Heels, owned by Gen. Livingston, Quincy, Ill.; second best, $200, to Ethan Allen, Sr., owned by R. B. Smith, Livingston Co., Ill.; third best, $100, to Humboldt, owned by Kelly & Thomas, of Nelson Co., Kentucky.

The Amphitheatre was filled to overflowing, and every part of the grounds was covered by moving humanity. Not less than 100,000 people were within the enclosure. At 3 o'clock the carriages entered the arena to convey the distinguished visitors from the grounds. After riding entirely around the arena, the Prince acknowledging the waving of handkerchiefs, &c., by raising his hat, the party proceeded outside the Amphitheatre and rode around the track. The royal party was received everywhere with demonstrations of high respect, but nothing obtrusive or offensive.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27—8 P. M.

The President now gives more than usual attention to our foreign affairs. A room for his especial use has just been prepared at the State Department.

About fifty clerks thus far in the census bureau—among them to-day Wm J. Delave, well known in connection with the Guthrie Press.

The P. O. Department has determined to discontinue the present mail service from St. Joseph to Denver, and send the mails around by Council Bluffs, Iowa.

A grand pyrotechnic display, and a visit to Mt. Vernon are in the programme, for the entertainment of the Prince of Wales.

The receipts into the treasury last week were $1,045,000, of which about $900,000 were for customs.

A private letter from China says that Minister Ward has written to Washington for six months absence, owing to the condition of his health.

FOUND DROWNED.—Mr. Orrin Reed, of the town of Beaver Dam, was found drowned in a stream south of the residence of Hon. F. H. Kriba, on Sunday morning of last week. He had been missing since the Wednesday previous, but no alarm was felt for two or three days, as it was supposed he had gone to Oak Grove. There is reason to believe that his death was voluntary, as he had been wandering in his mind for some time. If we are not mistaken, Mr. Reed formerly resided at Springvale, in this county, where he had many friends and acquaintances.—Fond du Lac Press.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 27—7 P. M.

The steamer Rose Douglas snagged and sunk, near Devine, yesterday. She will probably be raised.

Attention, Wide Awakes.

Those members having torches at their homes, will please leave them at the store of GOODNAN & BUEL, on Wisconsin street, before next Monday evening, when they will be put in order and filled for the trip to Chicago on Tuesday next.

BY ORDER OF COM. ON TORCHES.

Scandinavian Republican Club.

The Head-Quarters of the above Club, have been removed to new and pleasant rooms in BECKER'S Block, on Lake street, at the head of Ferry street, Fifth Ward. The Club will hold their first meeting in their new quarters this (Saturday) evening, Sept. 29th, at 8 o'clock, to make arrangements for attending the SEWARD mass meeting in Chicago, Oct. 21. All Scandinavians are cordially invited.

BY ORDER OF THE COMMITTEE.

CONCERT OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL CHILDREN.—The Second Concert of the Sunday School children of Milwaukee will take place at Albany Hall on Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Mission Schools of Milwaukee. Mr. SANWELS, whose ability in teaching and training these little ones to warble, is so well known, will conduct the exercises, assisted by others prominent in the cause. It is estimated that 400 children will be present.

When we find these infants doing their utmost to push along the work of Christianity, we cannot very well refuse to lend them all the aid possible. Let the public show by their attendance that they appreciate the efforts. The Mission Schools are doing a good work for our city, and should be liberally supported.

THE WIDE AWAKE RALLY.—The Milwaukee Wide Awake Club will meet at the Headquarters on Tuesday morning next, at half past six, in order to march to the special train for Chicago, which leaves at seven. We hope to see a large turnout.—Let those who wish to go, and are not Wide Awakes, be on hand at the above hour.

The American Cornet Band and the John F. Potter will accompany the Club, and an exciting time may be expected.

WE SHALL WITNESS the effect of this (fusion) in Pennsylvania and Indiana next month. Both of these States may be set down as certain for the Democracy.—News.

Does our friend wish to go anything? An enthusiastic Republican at our elbow authorizes us to say that he will put up $500 in gold on that prediction.

INVITATIONS have been extended to the different Wide Awake Clubs of Wauwatosa, Waukesha, Waupun, Janesville and other places, to form with the Milwaukee Club on Tuesday next, and it is expected that a delegation from each place will join in.

WE TAKE PLEASURE in calling attention to the advertisement of DELANO'S Life Preserving Coat, an indispensable article who would travel by water or go down to the sea in ships.

RAFFLE.—There is to be a raffle this evening, at the Bridge Saloon, South Water Street, for the splendid six-oared race boat "Mechanic." Tickets one dollar each.

INDIAN SUMMER.—For the past two or three days, the weather has been warm and hazy; the sunsets brilliant, and the nights comfortable—the dream of Indian Summer.

REV. MR. CORNING returned to this City yesterday morning, from a recent trip East. He will occupy his pulpit to-morrow morning and evening, at the 1st Presbyterian church.

AMONG THE PATENTS issued for the week ending Aug. 24th, is one to BELL, DOUGLAS & Co., of New York, for Dovetailing!

WE HAVE a few more of the Weeklies left containing CARL SCHURZ'S great speech at New York.

THE GRAND HORSE SHOW

Of the Wisconsin Agricultural and Mechanical Association. Preparations for the opening—Condition of the Grounds—Fast Horses to be on Hand—A Great Time Expected for Sporting Men and Stock Breeders.

The First Exhibition of the Wisconsin Agricultural and Mechanical Association will take place Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, at the grounds of the Association on the Cold Spring Road, two miles from the Custom House.

The grounds are all that could be wished. The most experienced men of the Society have had the preparations in hand, and nothing that good taste or convenience demands has been left undone. The fence—a high and substantial one—encloses sixty acres of pleasantly diversified country, with abundance of trees at the outskirts and a level plateau in the centre. Over one hundred stalls have been erected at the Southern part of the enclosure, and more are in process of completion

Directly opposite the entrance gate and across the course, is the pavilion, a roomy building, capable of seating twelve hundred people. It is constructed of the heaviest timbers, with no regard to expense, and affords a commanding view of the whole area. Immediately in front of it is the judges' stand, with tall flag staff and bell. The track—one mile—is one of the best that horse flesh ever delighted in, the utmost care having been taken to make it all that was desirable. It extends around the enclosure in the shape of an ellipse. The showring is also in front of the pavilion, and is evenly graded and laid out in the most approved form. At the Western extremity of the grounds is a new two story house of rustic beauty, erected for the use of the President and Executive Committee. On either side of it the landscape is of rare beauty.—The magnificent trees, now draped in the gorgeous tints of autumn, and the yet green grass beneath, render the locality one of picturesque beauty, as well as admirably adapted to the accommodation and delectation of visitors. On this sward we believe Mr. BENTLY of the Walker House, intends to put up his tent, and offer the hospitality for which he is already famous.

The arrangements for the accommodation of stock are perfect; water is in abundance. Two good wells are placed at the proper distances and have Wheeler's patent water drawer attached. Food is already provided and is being stacked in great abundance.

There is nothing, as we said before, now wanting to render the details complete, and the character of the men who have the exhibition in hand is sufficient guaranty that it will be a most successful beginning. The entries already made, and the interest felt among the owners of stock in the establishment of this important association, would indicate the same thing.

The premiums offered exceed $8,000; certainly a most liberal sum, and one that will have its effect in attracting those most interested in stock.

According to the programme, a four mile race, between the celebrated horses. Flea and Kitty Miles, for a purse of $2,000 will come off during the Fair.

The usual arrangements have been completed with all the railroads to transport passengers and stock at half price.

Extra Trains and Half-Fare for the Second.

On the second of October, next Tuesday, the Milwaukee & Chicago R. R. will issue round trip tickets at a single fare, and run an excursion train to Chicago, to accommodate all who wish to attend the great SEWARD demonstration. The train will leave at 7 A. M. Returning, leave Chicago at 11 P. M.

LINCOLN'S COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.—This well established and familiar institution comes out with renewed vigor as the winter months draw near.

The enterprising proprietor, whose laurels are growing into prosperous merchants all over the State, and western country, has opened the winter campaign gallantly, and we take pleasure in calling the attention of our country friends to his college, which is a permanent institution of Milwaukee, and in point of educational advantages, second to none in the West. Our many visits to the college have given us opportunities of judging of Mr. LINCOLN'S facilities and arrangements, and we unhesitatingly recommend his school to our young men who are desirous of obtaining a thorough commercial education.

THE UNDERSIGNED GROCERS of the West side, agree to close their stores at 8 o'clock P. M., from the first day of October, 1860, till the 1st of April, 1861, with the exception of Saturday nights and the last ten nights of December:

MR. MARKHAM LEAVES US.—We learn that Mr. MARKHAM has resigned his situation as principal of the Seventh Ward High School in this city, and has accepted the principalship of the High School at Niles, Michigan, Mr. MCKINDLEY having resigned his situation there, and goes to Kenosha. During Mr. MARKHAM'S residence in this city, he has gained hosts of friends and an enviable reputation, both as a successful teacher and a true hearted gentleman.

CONCERT OF THE MUSICAL SOCIETY.—The 107th concert of the Musical Society takes place on Monday night, at Albany Hall. The performance opens with MOZART'S Symphony in E flat, (major) and is followed by a scene from "Tannhauser," one of WAGNER'S best productions.

COULDN'T TELL.—A correspondent (evidently a timid Democrat) asks us how many Democratic votes we think will be lost to the cause if DOUGLAS comes into the State. We have no means of telling. The loss will be so great to the Democratic cause, however, before he gets here, that there will not be much danger—in our opinion.

THE children of the Sabbath Schools are requested to meet at the Plymouth Church this evening to rehearse for the concert.

WE ARE REQUESTED to state that the Democratic Convetion cannot meet at the Court House to-day—that room being engaged.

Horticultural Society Exhibition.

The exhibition of the Horticultural Society opened yesterday at Albany Hall under favorable auspices.

The contributions of fruits and flowers were numerous and arranged to the best advantage.

Throngs of ladies were coming and going constantly and not distracting in the least from the magnificent display.

Mr. HANS CROCKER exhibited a very fine collection of fruit. We noticed twenty specimens of the Beechwood musk melon, a delicious variety of this fruit, and several specimens of the Jenny Lind, Green citron, and Persian varieties, all remarkable for their excellence.

This gentleman has the largest and finest collection of pears that we ever saw, comprising the "Flemish Beauty," "Duchess of Angouleme," "Louise Bonne," "Beurre Gorrbault," "Sickle; Beurre de Rance," and a number of others, twenty varieties in all.

The "Duchess of Angouleme" variety each weigh a pound and are by far the best specimens of that fruit ever exhibited in this State. We may say the same of the "Flemish Beauties," and the "Bartletts," indeed the whole collection would be hard to beat in this country.

J. L. PERRIN exhibited thirteen varieties of pears, which are very fine. R. OLMSTED also, has a small contribution in this line. ALEX. [illegible]ton Marrow Squash which wear[illegible] besides a number of tur[illegible]

In this collection we find a number of "perfected tomatoes," worthy the attention of Vegetarians. They (the tomatoes) have been brought to that state of cultivation which is indicated by their name. The seeds are few, leaving the interior a compact, luscious mass of juicy pulp, the acme of tomata excellence.

CALEB WALL exhibited a Savoy cabbage, about the size of a bandbox, raised on his ground.

BROWN and OGDEN—several huge marrow squashes, beets, citron and a string of white onions two yards long. H. SPANN had some bunches of extra celery worthy of notice, and a collection of cabbages which cannot be beat.

P. CANNON exhibited a good variety of vegetables. CHAS. GIFFEN displays some ruta baga turnips weighing 16 pounds each, a couple of stone turnips weighing 12 pounds, and a bunch of white Belgian, which merits the attention of visitors, being the finest in shape and color that has yet come under our observation.

The same exhibitor has a bunch of tomatoes—eight in number, of large size, growing from one stem, and three varieties of crab-apples.

The flowers exceed in beauty and variety any former exhibition. They are tastefully arranged, and receive the merited encomiums of the delighted crowds of fair ones who swarm about them. The most exquisite display, probably, is that made by D. FERGUSON, of dahlias. He exhibits twenty-two flowers arranged on a plane so as to contrast the wonderful delicacy and loveliness of the different hues. This one display alone is worth a visit to the Hall, to any one who can appreciate the truly beautiful.

There are quite a number of Fuschias in pots, on the tables, of luxuriant development, and alternation of color.

Quite a number of magnificent boquets were exhibited by ladies. Miss YALE showed two very artistically arranged groups of flowers. Miss BARTLETT four baskets of exquisite tints, and many others of almost equal beauty.

Mr. HISLOP had not all his pots arranged while we were present. We shall, however, be able to give an opinion on his department in our next.

We were gratified with the display. The interest taken in it by our ladies is praiseworthy. The arrangement, if not, indeed, the cultivation of these flowers, is owing to their delicate sense of the beautiful, and no more refining and appropriate occupation can be found.

THE STICKING POINT.—This point seems, at last, to have been reached, in a new invention known as SPALDING'S Prepared Glue, which, by simple application, without heating or preparation of any kind, re-unites the fragments of almost anything into a perfect whole. This glue is really a valuable invention, and from its utility, must come into as extensive and general use as the friction match.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Democracy United.

Just at this time when the ablest Democrats in the country have admitted that DOUGLAS stock is running down; when the shadow of coming events can be seen by all, and the election of LINCOLN is no longer doubted by sane men, the editor of the News, under the conviction that it is best to put a good face on the matter, says:

> Lincoln now leads a "forlorn hope." His supporters have lost all the capital they ever had to work upon. "The divided Democracy" is among the things that were. They can no longer roll that like a sweet morsel under their tongues. The Democracy are not only united, but have secured the cordial co-operation of that powerful party which cast in the State of New York alone in 1856, 124,504 votes.

Our factious cotemporary must not be supposed to have any wish to treat this important subject ironically, however much the appearance of the above quotation would indicate such a desire. Our friend very evidently looks upon this recent New York trade as the salvation of the great Democracy. It is painful to think how great must have been the extremity of this party, when their salvation depended upon the Know-Nothing leaders of New York. Well, they have secured the co-operation" (the cordial, mind you) of "that powerful party," and therefore the Democracy "is no longer divided." This looks very much like saying, we have united with the other wing of the Democracy—the Know-Nothings. (Quid rides?) How do our German Democrats like the triumphant mixture?

A Baltimore Editor Makes a Republican Speech.

Col. EVANS, editor of the Baltimore Patriot, made a manly and fearless speech at a Republican meeting in New York recently. He declared that he was a member of the "American" party, but endorsed the Chicago platform, and was ready to vote for [illegible] He said "the leaven was [illegible] south. Maryland [illegible] spreading in the [illegible] Virginia and Kentucky [illegible] give them several thousand votes. The Southern descendants of the men who perilled their lives for freedom would stand for freedom still. He had received an anonymous letter telling him that unless he ceased to proclaim his attachment for LINCOLN, he would be compelled to leave Baltimore, and he had told a friend then that on the 6th of November next, live or die, survive or perish, if it was the last act of his life, he would cast an open ballot for LINCOLN and HAMLIN. [Long continued applause.] Col. EVANS told how the Baltimore Patriot has been proscribed because it supported the principles of freedom. He considered the election of the Republican candidates a foregone conclusion. He wanted the men of the North not to be scared with this scarecrow of the dissolution of the Union. They could not drive them (of the South) out of the Union. If the election was carried to the Senate, Mr. LANE, of Oregon, would be chosen President. In conclusion, Colonel EVANS promised that Maryland would do her best for the Republican cause, led by Mr. H. WINTER DAVIS."

THE FUSION ACCOMPLISHED.—The Committee of Fifteen, appointed at the Union meeting in New York last week, has finally agreed upon a fusion electoral ticket, consisting of 18 Douglasites, 10 Bell-Everetts, and 7 Breckinridgers—salt, sugar and vinegar mixed. All but three names are taken from tickets heretofore nominated: The Douglasites thus strike hands with the BRECKINRIDGE disunionists, as they call them, and both parties showing their political porridge with the Know-Nothing, revive the old dark lantern motto: "Put none but Americans on guard." The ticket cannot command a united support. The telegraph informs us that Mr. BRADY, the BRECKINRIDGE candidate for Governor of New York, has already repudiated it.

THERE IS A "SENSATION" among the fashionable belles and high-flyers of New York. They are indignant at the fact that Miss HARRIET LANE, President BUCHANAN'S niece, has been invited to come all the way from Washington to open the Prince of Wales' ball, and dance the first set with his youthful Royal Highness. "A New York Matron" protests, through the press, against inviting a lady from Washington, charming and elegant though she be, to open a ball given by New York gentlemen. She says:

> "New York ladies are admitted to possess as much beauty, more style, and quite as much grace, as those of any city in the Union, and while I do not seek the honor of dancing with so distinguished a guest, for which honor I might have the right to compete, yet in justice to my young towns-women, I must enter the protest."

THE STATE FAIR.

Good-Looking Ladies—Horses—Cheese—Ice Car—Succotash and Fizzles, &c.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

MADISON, Sept. 27th, 1860.

MY DEAR SENTINEL:—I have just returned from the State Fair Grounds, sick, sore and disgusted. (This is a private matter and of no account to your readers, of course, but I feel bound to make an excuse for what I feel will be a very stupid screwl. I have nothing but a tooth-ache and this paper to amuse myself with to-night.)

The ladies equestrian display, (I believe that is what they call it,) took place to-day at 3 o'clock P. M. Soon after dinner the crowd began to gather about the various tents and booths on the side toward the race course, and by three o'clock, an immense crowd hemmed it in on each side.

It was one of the greatest gatherings I have seen at a State Fair. Young girls aged from 16 to 60, seemed to predominate. They were sharp-featured, shrewd and good, and—(heaven help my truth-telling pen,) most abominable homely. Your correspondent would acknowledge his indebtedness to an eighteen-year-old angel whose pure eyes had the serene repose of heaven in their depths. She was the centre of a little group, and as fresh as a tinted rose-bud in a nosegay.—Bless us! That group will never be gathered into such a boquet again. She will be the wife of some confounded Democratic chairman of the Board of Supervisors, and other groups, with the same tints of her pure eyes, will go to the other State Fairs when your subscriber and company have cast their boat from this "bank and shoal of Time," never to anchor more.

As I was saying, the crowd began to grow impatient for the Equestrian business, and so a couple of men ran horses. One of the riders belonged to that class which "has no rights which a white man is bound to respect," and the other was a dark-colored white man. The light-colored black man sat on the neck of the horse, and pushed by his ears, while the dark-colored white man sat on the haunches, and held back; consequently, the black man beat by four laughs. Great cheers by everybody who wore LINCOLN badges, which comprised about four-fifths of the crowd.

Then came the Dane County Cavalry. They made a splendid display. This was really one of the best things of the Fair After the cavalry came the ladies, to the number of six or eight. One was seated on a grey steed, with nothing on it but a blanket. The rest had saddles, richly trimmed, or substantially made. The cavalcade of soldiers and women made a very splendid appearance in passing over the course.—Finally, the cavalry withdrew, and the ladies dashed away. I thought they all rode well; my sympathies being with the saddleless maiden, but I believe the Judges didn't like the style. She wasn't very good-looking in the face, that's a fact, but she had courage and skill, and did the thing handsomely. I understand that a Janesville lady, who wore a gorgeous purple habit, carried off the prize. She was a Queenly-looking lady.

I have understood that the one who rode on a blanket was to have a watch presented to her by the crowd generally. These are mere idle rumors that I pick up, and I have no resources of getting at the facts before mail time.

Robbins' cheese paid me for my journey out here. It weighs about three quarters of a ton! It is just the shape of any cheese, being about five feet across and twenty inches thick. As no one was allowed to touch it, I could not tell whether it was well cured or not.

The green house was a fizzle. A few straggling fuschias on the shelves looked as melancholy as scraggy old maids fastened up against the side of a ball room, shaking their withered curls at the rosy-cheeked girls dancing with the fellows.

The beets, pumpkins, squashes, apples, potatoes, grapes, &c., &c., were fine. Think of 142 pounds in one squash rind. Think of a beet 27 inches long and 6 inches through; that beats all.

If these Fairs throw any light on the proper method to be pursued in the successful culture of apples in Wisconsin, they will do a great work. The pomological department was well sustained this year. I have great hopes that apples will be cheaper than oranges by and by.

In the Fine Art Hall there was an execrable picture of LINCOLN. It don't look any more like the old Boy who delivered the address at Milwaukee last Fall, than it does like a Methodist's idea of the devil. I believe it must have been painted in South Carolina.

WIARD'S Ice Boat, Lady Franklin, was on exhibition in a wooden house on the grounds. It is about the size of a locomotive, with a saloon in front that will hold about twenty persons. The seats are against the side of the boat. It is very [illegible] decorated. The wheel [illegible] elegantly [illegible] head of the [illegible] man stands at the [illegible] where he can look out of [illegible] out windows. It is about the width of an ordinary railroad car, and has a scow-boat looking bow, shod with boiler iron. I believe in fact it is all made of that material. About six feet from the stern, in the middle of the boat is a single wheel which protrudes through the bottom like the keel of a sail boat. This is the propelling wheel. It looks, on the edge, like the end of a ladies fan when about half unfolded, only it is about four inches wide. The engine is about sixteen horse power.

I should have liked the "well-bred horses," I know, but the vulgar rabble were not permitted to see anything but padlocks on the doors, to those regions of pure blood. The only pure blooded I did see, was a short legged critter, with long thick ears—a musical "anamile" that had an asthmetic affection of the wind apparatus. His name commences with a "J." He could sing a "bass" accompaniment to the calliope, with vigor. Finally there was an immense crowd. There never was a finer collection of vegetables west of Lake Michigan. The grounds are finely located.

But there was much grumbling at the door tenders. If by any possibility a man or woman got outside of the fence, he or she could not get back without paying a quarter. This was proper as a general rule but in some instances it was positively mean.

The prizes for riding were as follows: 1st. ANNA COMSTOCK; 2d ANNA CRONK—both of Janesville. Miss DENNISON, of Madison, and Miss GUNN, of Beaver Dam, third and fourth.

A BOY ONLY ELEVEN YEARS OLD CONVICTED MANSLAUGHTER.—The trial of John Henry Price on the charge of murder, for shooting James Cox, in Wilton, Saratoga county, on the 21st of August last, has resulted in his conviction of manslaughter in the fourth degree. This case has excited some interest because the principal parties were mere children,—James Cox, whose life was sacrificed, being only eight years old, and Price, by whose hands he fell, eleven years old. It seems incredible that there could have been an intention to take life; and we think the testimony bears out that he was more heedless and headstrong than willfully criminal.—Albany Argus, Sept. 21.

BACK SET TO OIL WELL SPECULATORS.—We learn by the Pittsburgh Chronicle that late intelligence from the oil districts reveals the fact that the celebrated Tideout well stopped flowing over the top after throwing out some two hundred barrels a day. The famous Crosby well has dwindled down from seventy barrels a day to six or seven, but the owner thinks the failure is attributable to the filling of the pump, and hopes to do better when it is cleaned. Out of two hundred and sixty-seven wells on the creek above Titusville, only thirty-four are yet pumping oil, and many of the oil-seekers are just now in a state of very anxious suspense.

ELECTIONS.—Town elections take place in Connecticut next Monday, and State elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana a week from next Tuesday.

Editor of the Ohio Statesman Attended to.—A Patriotic Effusion.

The Ohio Statesman, of Wednesday, published a poem with this commendatory notice:

"We are obliged to our lady correspondent, "Helen," for her patriotic effusion."

The Fact re-produced the poem, with the following:

"We so much admire the style and sentiment of our cotemporary's poetess, 'Helen,' that we have transferred her effusion to our columns. George W. Manypenny should certainly be obliged for such contributions.—A little truth occasionally in the Squatter organ would be quite an improvement.

The Bulletin said:

"We append from the Statesman of this morning, the "patriotic effusion" alluded to. We always did admire "Helen" as one of rising geniuses of the age.

"Helen! glorious Helen—witty Helen—immortal Helen—not her of Troy, but Helen of Columbus—Helen, who perpetrated the colossal joke upon the antiquated, multitudinous small coin—Helen, who acrostically wrote and printed in the Ohio Statesman, the veracious sentence: 'George W. Manypenny is a great jackass—a vile old Rat.' Whoever thou art, wherever thou art—thou inspect call at our office whenever thou pleasest, and appropriate, take and carry off our hat. Thou art the topic, talk and boast of typos.

Helen, write again; write early; write often; and above all, remember, Helen, that you can take our hats."

Here is the poem set so as to give the acrostic conspicuity. As printed in the Statesman the alternate lines were indented, and it was divided into eight line verses:

THE DEMOCRATIC BANNER.

Glorious banner of the free,
Ever faithful to the Right!
Oh, ever let that banner be
Radiant as the stars of night!
Gallant hands have borne it high,
Ever since the olden time.

When beneath our Western sky
Morn of freedom blessed this clime!
Ah, how oft we've seen it borne
Nobly in the heady fight,
Yielding not, though rent and torn—
Pressing onward in its might!
Enemies in vain assailed;
Nearer formed each gallant rank;
Never faltered—never quailed—
Yielding not, though turned our flank.

In the valley—from the hill—
Swells again the battle-cry,
Arming clans, from mount and vale,

Gleam like fires in northern sky!
Roused each soldier from the fray,
Eager battle's lore to know!
Ah, ye hear the trumpet's bray!
Thrills each heart to music's flow!

Join with us, oh patriot throng!
Aid us in each noble deed:
Come and help us bear along
Knowledge of true freedom's creed!
All alone our cheftain stands,
Struggling to the wild melee—
Struggling still, with battling hands,

Armed for death or victory!

Voices hear of freemen waking,
In the hour of trial strong!—
Lo! the foemen's files are breaking,—
Eager hour our backs along!

On! charge each wav'ring column!
Let no coward heart be known!
Deal your heaviest blows upon them:

Rank to rank the fight is won!
Answer, is this but a dream,
Told to fancy's eager ear?

True, prophetic may my theme
On November's ides appear!

Blasted be Disunion's aim
Our united land to sever;
Oh, be true to Douglas' name—
True to Right and Freedom ever.

HELEN.

*Douglas.

The trick played upon Mr. Manypenny is an old one and a dirty one. It is short as brilliant as the presentation at a newspaper counter, of false marriage and death notices, a trick that merits a course of treatment in the penitentiary.

The newspaper press will make the best of the joke on Manypenny, and yet most editors will be willing to admit that it would not be impossible to impose upon them in the same way. The editor of the Statesman was taken on his weak side—that is, a foot note to the "patriotic effusion" assured him that the glory of the performance was given to Douglas. And it was consequently accepted with thanks, and "sent up." Such is life.

THE TURF.

Great Trot between Flora Temple and Patchen—Two Mile Heats—Flora Wins in Two Straight Heats—Time, 4.55 1-4 and 5 Minutes.

One of the most exciting trots of the season took place yesterday (Monday,) on the Centreville Course, between the above celebrated horses, it being Flora's first appearance in this neighborhood since her recent tour West. On last Saturday week she was at Kalamazoo, Michigan: on Friday last she returned to Long Island, and on Monday she succeeded in vanquishing her game opponent, the favorite son of Jersey. On arriving at the track, many were surprised to find the little mare the favorite at the long odds of 100 to 60; but when it was known that Patchen had been under treatment during the preceding week, their wonder ceased, and many endeavors were made to make the odds even heavier; but though Flora's friends objected to giving 100 to 50, any amount of money was ready to be posted at the current odds, and numerous bets were made. Hiram Woodruff's confidence in his protege was unbounded, and he backed her freely at 2 to 1, the result showing that he did not estimate her too highly.

There were not less than twenty-five hundred to three thousand spectators, but very few ladies were present. The greatest good order prevailed, and the track, which was in splendid condition, was kept entirely clear, both horses having a perfectly fair field. Considering the circumstances [illegible] sailing of Patchen, the long journey [illegible] and a stiff breeze that blew [illegible] of Flora, the time was very fa[illegible] during the race, very even, the [illegible] and the trotting was [illegible] ing well [illegible] termination of both heats being contested, the last heat being very exciting indeed. The following is an account of the heats:

FIRST HEAT.

Before the start, it was announced from the Judges' stand that the driver of Patchen was fifteen pounds overweight. "Patchen having the track, the two horses came up for the word, and at the third attempt they went off, Patchen leading slightly. This advantage he increased going round the first turn, and at the quarter pole he was at least three lengths ahead, and remained at this distance without any perceptible change to the half, when Flora made a rush around the upper turn and reduced the gap, passing the three quarter pole barely three lengths behind, and as they swung into the straight run she was still nearer, but was unable to reach him, Patchen passing the stand a length and a-half in front in 2 minutes 28 seconds.

Again he increased his lead as he went round the turn, but as they neared the quarter, Flora again approached the horse, and before he reached the half-mile pole, she had passed him. Patchen seeming almost trotted to a stand-still. Recovering his speed, he made a decrease in the gap that Flora had opened, but skipped in passing round the three-quarter turn, Flora being two lengths in advance; from this point a most beautiful race was made, the competitors trotting finely, and Patchen making a strong push for the lead; but all his endeavors were of no avail, Flora coming over the score leading by a length and a half; the time of the two miles being 4 minutes 55 1-4 seconds.

SECOND HEAT.

After the lapse of half an hour the horses came up, having cooled off nicely, Flora being entitled to the pole. At the first attempt a splendid send off was made, Patchen leading slightly, but he broke as he began to turn, and Flora took the lead of a length. Patchen, settling down, gained steadily on the mare, lapped at the quarter and half way to the half mile showed his nose in front, and at the half Patchen was a clear length in advance. They kept at about this interval around the upper turn, and swung into the home stretch with a gap of about half a length between them; but as they approached the distance Flora gained slightly, but broke inside the distance, and Patchen passed the Judge's stand in 2:26, leading by two lengths.

As they went into the first turn on the second mile, Flora crept up and both broke, Flora losing the least by the break, and passing the horse at the second turn and going by the quarter pole with an advantage of about two lengths; and midway between the quarter and half, Patchen again showed a disposition to stop, and in the first heat, thus losing another length and a half, and passing the half mile pole at least three lengths behind. Rounding the upper turn, Patchen drew nearer the mare, and trotted her off her feet as she swung into the straight run; passing her on the inside and taking the track, Flora bolting for the outside, but McManus soon brought her down to her work and she spun down the home stretch, completely out-trotting the horse, and coming over the score amid much excitement, with Patchen's nose well upon her hind quarters, thus winning the heat and race in exactly five minutes.

The Ministers' Bowling Alley.

(From the World.)

It is generally known that there is a bowling alley in successful operation in Brooklyn, owned and directed by one of the principal churches of that city, and being as much one of its institutions as its weekly prayer meeting and lecture. In this hall, which is accessible to all yearly subscribers of a proper character, it is common to find a group of the principal clergymen of that city, in company with members of their churches, securing such a preparation for the pulpit, as their studies cannot afford.—It would be difficult to overstate our approbation of this independent and judicious institution.

A sacred musician once complained that the devil had all the best tunes. Hitherto the most rational means of physical enjoyment seem to have been monopolized by the same hand. As it is clear that he has no right to them, and as is certain that Christian men and women cannot descend to such fellowship to partake of them, why not rescue them, under a declaration of moral independence, and secure their benefits.

A FELLOW GOES TO THE PENITENTIARY FOR SPELLING WISCONSIN WITHOUT A C.—In the Criminal Court yesterday, L. C. Stoughton was convicted of forgery in the second degree (counterfeiting,) and sentenced to the Penitentiary for eight years. We have already given the details of this case, and it is hardly necessary now to repeat them. L. C. and J. S. Stoughton, both young men, and both experienced and expert counterfeiters, were engaged in altering, raising, and counterfeiting bank notes, at their residence on Wash near Twenty second street. Neither was known to the police; and, as they did not themselves attempt to issue any of the bogus money, no suspicion was attached to them.

On the 9th of February last, a letter came to the post office from a town in Illinois, addressed to J. S. Stoughton, which the post office clerk blunderingly placed in the box of T. G. Slaughter, a well-known business man in this city. Mr. S., without examining the superscription, opened the letter, and to his amazement, found that it contained a counterfeit five on the Farmers' Bank of Two Rivers, Wisconsin, with the explanation: "Try again; such work as this would hang a nigger. Spell Wisconsin with a C." The word "Wisconsin," which was most admirably done with a pen, in large white capital letters with a blue background, was spelled without the [illegible] C."—The letter and the counterfeit [illegible] were placed in the hands of the [illegible] ice, and the arrest of the Stoughtons [illegible] After lying in jail for seven months or more, one of the brothers has received his just deserts—all through spelling "Wisconsin" "without the C," and the lucky blunder of the post office clerk.—St. Louis Herald, Sept. 18th.

NEW YORK GOSSIP.—On dit, that the Berbice Boy, with his trainer, Jack McDonald, who have recently been giving the Brooklyn people a taste of their quality, called upon Rev. Henry Ward Beecher a few evenings since, to pay their respects. Mr. Beecher received the eminent bruisers with his usual politeness. He said he perfectly agreed with them as to the necessity of improving the American physique by the development of the muscle, but he had serious objections to the ring and its surroundings. He did not approve of prize-fighting either, but he had no objections to a fair and square round or two on Christian principles, with a view to promote the digestive faculties. Beecan then handed the pastor of Plymouth Church a pair of boxing gloves, and they do say the use he made of them fully persuaded his visitors that Mr. Beecher, with a little practice, would be as excellent a muscleman as he is a preacher.—N. Y. Cor. Buffalo Com.

DEATH OF THE NOTORIOUS "ROSINA TOWNSEND."—Mrs. Moffatt, of Castleton, once notorious as Rosina Townsend, the keeper of the house of ill-fame in Thomas Street, New York, where Helen Jewett was murdered, nearly a quarter of a century since, died at Castleton, below this city, on Saturday last. She has resided in that village for nearly twenty years, and was a very exemplary member of the Methodist Church. She was a woman of active benevolence, and was foremost in every movement to ameliorate the condition of the poor. It was supposed by many that when she died she might throw some additional light upon the murder of Helen Jewett, which caused such intense excitement throughout the country at the time of the trial, but she never revealed it. What little property she had she bequeathed to her husband, with whom she had lived contented and happy for many years.—Albany Knickerbocker, Sept.

A MAN OF Williamstown, Mass., has a large lot of bullfrogs, all fattened for a foreign market. Some of them have been highly fed for several years, and are of enormous size, weighing about forty pounds! Although no premium is offered on this stock, he intends to exhibit them at the Hoosack Valley Fair.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills.
HOW STRANGE AND WONDERFUL it often seems to us that a medicine composed of simple mountain herbs and roots, should so certainly search out and cure disease. How surprising that the Indians should know and preserve so long and well a secret that has escaped the search of the greatest physicians the world has ever seen. True, the ancient inhabitants of Mexico were a strange race, found by the Spaniards living in large cities, and allowing for their strange customs and religion as well civilized as their conquerors. In the words of a writer of some celebrity, "They have perished from the earth, their cities are gigantic piles of ruins, their Kings and Princes so mighty in their life, are forgotten; their ruins and their medicine alone are left." The united testimony of all intelligent persons is that JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS are the most successful medicine in the world in curing disease.
Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

"DE TH IS THE LOT OF ALL"

In coldly furnished palace halls,
Where rich in dalliance dwell;
Between the cold and frigid walls
That form the fabric's cell,
And in the hut where lowly youth
Sends forth his starving call,
In vain, unfeeling, pitiless,
"Death is the lot of all."

We read it in the blushing flowers
That every meadow teem;
'Tis whispered by the lofty towers,
And mirrored in the stream;
It forms the happy songster's lay;
In vain and heed in all,
And yet our hearts are blithe and gay:
"Death is the lot of all."

We, one and all, must leave this world,—
Even as the flower dies;
Our spirits into darkness hurled
Shall read Death's mysteries.
Oh! is there nought beyond this life?
No joy or sorrow's pall?
Is death the "crown" for all our strife?—
"Death is the lot of all!"

Yes, verily, there is a land
Where peace is mine and thine,
Upon whose pure and happy strand
Beat not the waves of Time,
Where seraphs in their beauty dwell,
And joy reigns over all;
And so pale lips with quivering tell:
"Death is the lot of all."

Whipping a Negro Girl.

The manner of the overseer who inflicted the punishment, and his subsequent conversation with me about it, indicated that it was by no means an unusual occurrence with him I had accidentally encountered him, and he was showing me his plantation. In going from one side of it to the other, we had twice crossed a deep gully, at the bottom of which was a thick covert of brushwood. We were crossing it a third time, and had nearly passed through the brush, when the overseer suddenly stopped his horse, exclaiming, "What's that? Hallo! who are you there?"

It was a girl lying at full length on the ground at the bottom of the gully, evidently intending to hide herself from us in the bushes.

"Who are you there?"

"Sam's Sal, sir."

"What are you skulking there for?"

The girl half arose, but made no answer.

"Have you been there all day?"

"No, sir."

"How did you get there?"

The girl made no reply.

"Where have you been all day?"

The answer was unintelligible.

After some further questioning, she said her father accidentally locked her in, when he went out in the morning.

"How did you manage to get out?"

"Pushed a plank off, sir, and crawled out."

The overseer was silent for a moment, looking at the girl, and then said, "that won't do—come out here." The girl arose at once, and walked toward him; she was about eighteen years of age. A bunch of keys hung at her waist, which the overseer espied, and said, "Ah, your father looked you in; but you have got the keys." After a little hesitation, the girl replied that these were the keys of some other locks; her father had the door key.

Whether her story was true or false, could have been ascertained in two minutes by riding on to the gang with which her father was at work, but the overseer had made up his mind as to the facts of the case.

"That won't do," said he, "get down on your knees." The girl knelt on the ground; he got off his horse, and holding him with his left hand, struck her thirty or forty blows across the shoulders with his rough, flexible "raw hide" whip. They were laid on as a boatswain would thrash a skulking sailor, or as some people flog a balking horse; but with no appearance of angry excitement on the part of the overseer At every stroke the girl winced and exclaimed: "Ah sir!" or "Yes sir!" or "Please sir!" not groaning or screaming. At length he stopped and said, "Now tell me the truth. The girl repeated the same story. "You have not got enough yet," said he, "pull up your clothes—lie down."

The girl without any hesitation, without a word or look of remonstrance or entreaty, drew closely all her garments under her shoulders, and lay down upon the ground, with her face toward the overseer, who continued to fling her with the rawhide across her naked loins and thigh, with as much strength as before. She now shrunk away from him, not rising, but writhing, groveling, and screaming, "Oh don't sir! oh, please stop, master! please, sir! please sir! oh, that's enough, master! oh, Lord! oh, master, master! oh, God, master, do stop! oh, God, master! oh, God, master!"

A young gentleman of fifteen was with us; he had ridden in front, and now, turning on his horse, looked back with an expression of impatience at the delay. It was the first time I had seen a woman flogged. I had seen a man cudgeled and beaten, in the heat of passion, before, but never flogged with a hundredth part of the severity used in this case. I glanced again at the perfectly passionless, but rather grim, business-like face of the overseer, and again at the young gentleman, who had turned away; if not indifferent, he had evidently not the slightest sympathy with my emotion.

Only my horse chafed with excitement. I gave him rein and spur, and we plunged violently into the bushes and scrambled fiercely up the steep acclivity. The screaming yells and the whip strokes had ceased when I reached the top of the bank. Choking, sobbing, spasmodic groans only were heard. I rode on to the road, coming diagonally up the ravine, and out upon the cotton field. My young companion met me there, and immediately afterwards the overseer. He laughed as he joined us, and said: "She meant to cheat me out of a day's work, and she has done it, too."

"Did you succeed in getting another story from her?"

"No; she stuck to it."

"Was it not perhaps true?"

"Oh, no, sir; she slipped out of the gang when they were going to work, and she's been dodging about all day, going from one place to another as she saw me coming. She saw us crossing there a little while ago, and thought we had gone to the quarters, but we turned back so quick we came into the gully before she knew it, and she could do nothing but lie down in the bushes."

"I suppose they often slip off so."

"No, sir; I never had one do so before—not like this; they often run away to the woods, and are gone some time; but I never had a slave dodge off like this before."

"Was it necessary to punish her so severely?"

"Oh, yes, sir," (laughing.) "If I hadn't punished her so hard she would have done the same thing again to morrow, and half the people on the plantation would have followed her example. Oh, you've no idea how lazy these niggers are; you Northern people don't know anything about it.—They'd never do any work at all if they were not afraid of being whipped."

We soon afterwards met an old man, who, on being closely questioned, said that he had seen the girl leave the gang as they went to work after dinner. It appears that she had been at work during the forenoon, but at dinner time the gang was moved, and as it passed through the gully she slipped out.

The driver had not missed her The overseer said that when he first took charge of this plantation, the negroes ran away a great deal—they disliked him so much.—They used to say it was hell to be on his place; but after a few months they got used to his ways, and liked him better than any of the rest. He had not had any run away now in some time. When they ran away, they would generally return within a fortnight. If many of them went off, or if they stayed out long, he would make the rest of the force work Sundays, or deprive them of some of their usual privileges until they returned. The negroes on the plantation could always bring them in if they chose to. They depended on them for their food, and they had only to stop the supplies to oblige them to surrender.—F. L. Olmstead.

CHILD DESERTION.—Rev. Mr. Lumsden, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, in this city, found upon his door-steps, on Thursday evening of last week, a boy baby apparently two or three days old. He took the little fellow in, cared for him through the night, and in the morning called on Mr. Bell, Superintendent of the Poor, named the little chap Abraham Lincoln, baptised him and delivered him over to the county.—Ann Arbor News, Sept. 25th.

THE following despatch, says the Toledo Blade, went through our telegraph office recently:

"Charley and Julia met at S——, yesterday—quarreled and parted forever—met again this morning, and parted to meet no more—met again this evening, and—were married."

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Gov. Seward in Kansas.

LEAVENWORTH, Sept 27—3 P. M.

Gov. Seward addressed a crowd of five or six thousand people at Lawrence yesterday. He expressed gratification at the fulfillment of a long cherished desire and duty to address the people of Kansas, to visit them in their own houses. I desire to speak to you here, where I have renewed the memories of the contest waged upon this soil; while I see around the broken implements with which the contest was waged by the aggressors, under the plea of popular sovereignty, which left the people perfectly free to do as they pleased, subject to the constitution of the U. S., which they were left perfectly free to interpret as they pleased, while the authorities at Washington had never been able to interpret it, either to their own satisfaction, or that of the American people.—While Kansas is the youngest and least favored with political power, yet she is the most inflexible and most constant.

The two richest States are New York and Mass., and they are so merely because they are the freest and most liberty loving. And the cause of all the interest I have felt in you, has been merely this, that you occupy a neutral position in the U. S. With regard to freedom and slavery there is no contest, no difference on the subject along the line of Northeastern States, for they are all for freedom; none on the line of the Southern States, for they are all for slavery.

But there is an eternal strife for the establishment of freedom or slavery in all the rest of the United States, from the Mississippi to the Pacific. If freedom was to triumph, there was no point where she could expect to meet the enemy, except where she has met it—here. If you had been false, slavery would have swept through the Territory of New Mexico, and the whole country to the Pacific coast would be perfectly secured to the compromise. You opened a new campaign and crowned it with complete victory. Henceforth the battle is ended—henceforth the free laborer from every land on the earth can pursue his onward march to the Rocky Mountains. You not only occupied a prominent position, but this great enterprise was attempted at a critical period in'54. All guarantees of freedom were abandoned, and Kansas that had for forty years been free from slaves, was pronounced as much of a slave State as South Carolina.

No other 100,000 people has contributed so much for freedom as Kansas. I bowed myself as I have never done before to any other people, in profound reference. I salute you with gratitude and affection.

Alluding to the "irrepressible conflict," he says:

"The people of Kansas settled it there in favor of Freedom in New Mexico."

He then reviewed the history of slavery extension at length, and says "the Territories must be reserved for the labor of overpopulated States."

He concludes as follows:

"Henceforth, if my confidence in the stability of the American Union wavers, I shall come here to learn that the Union is stronger than human ambition, because it is founded in the affections of the American people. If ever I shall waver in my devotion to liberty, I shall come up here to renew it. Here, under the inspiration of 100,000 freemen saved from slavery, henceforth these shall not be my sentiments alone, but the sentiments of all men will come up to Kansas, as they go up to Jerusalem—this shall be the sacred city."

Senator Douglas in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 27—3 P. M.

Senator Douglas arrived here at 8 o'clock to-night by a special train from Cincinnati. He was received at the depot by a very large crowd of citizens, and escorted to the Gates' House. He will speak to-morrow at the State Democratic mass meeting.

At Lawrenceburgh, Greensburgh, Shelbyville, and several other places along the road, Mr. Douglas made short speeches to the crowds assembled. Extensive preparations have been made for the demonstration to morrow.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Judge Douglas at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 28.

The Douglas State mass meeting to-day, is the largest assembly of the Democracy in this State since 1856. The procession was composed of wagons and footmen, bearing banners &c., and it was about an hour passing a given point. It passed under a four arched tower bearing appropriate mottoes and devices. The most imposing feature of the procession, was the young ladies' car, in the centre of which stood a young lady attired as the Goddess of Liberty. This attraction elicited praises and applause from every person. The desire to see Mr. Douglas was manifested by all party men, and even greater than to hear him speak. His speech was of the same tenor that has characterized former ones.

The crowd is estimated variously from 50,000 to 100,000. The torchlight procession and display of fire-works this evening was very large. The Sentinel office and several other buildings are brilliantly illuminated. Judge Douglas leaves here tomorrow for Louisville.

The Seward Demonstration at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28—9 P. M.

Great preparations are being made by the Republicans and Democrats for the reception of Senators Seward and Douglas next week. Arrangements have been made with all the leading railroads for the issue of half-fare tickets. Mr. Seward will arrive on the evening of October 1st, and will address the Republicans next day. Mr. Douglas is expected to arrive on the evening of October 4th, and address the Democracy on the 5th.

Loss of the Schr. St. Mary Confirmed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.

It is now positively certain that the Schr. St. Mary foundered on the night of the Lady Elgin disaster. One of her small boats drifted ashore Sunday, a short distance both of this city. One body supposed to have been lost off the Lady Elgin, has been identified as one of the schooner's crew.—There were eleven persons, including crew, on board. The vessel was valued at $6,000—no insurance.

Storm on Lake Ontario—Vessels Ashore.

OSWEGO, Sept. 28—9 P. M.

The Canadian schooner Caledonia, with lumber from Toronto for this port, went ashore in the gale this morning, below the Fort, and will be a total wreck. The crew was saved.

Other vessels are reported ashore down the Lake.

Movements of the Prince.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28—9 P. M.

The Prince of Wales inaugurated the Western Academy of Art yesterday afternoon, and was serenaded by the Fire Department in the evening. The party left this morning on a special train for Cincinnati, highly pleased with the view of the Mississippi river and visit to St. Louis.

The Fate of Gen. Walker.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28—9 P. M.

MONETARY.

FRIDAY P. M., September 29, 1860.

The demand for Exchange continues active, and with moderate exports of grain the banks have but little to spare except for their customers at the current rate, which is ¾ @ ¾ cent premium. During the last two days some of the brokers have bought and sold at the same figure. The demand for Currency to-day was trifling, owing to the depression in the produce market, and the supply abundant.

NEW YORK MONEY MATTERS.

CHICAGO MONEY MARKET.

The Press & Tribune of this morning says:

The rise in the exchange market is fully sustained, and it must be quoted firm at 1 ₱ cent premium. The demand is active and the supply good. Hence everybody feels well except those who have purchases to make, but the public learned months ago to submit to present rates with thankfulness that they were no higher. Currency is plenty and generally the money market is working smoothly.

The receipts of wheat to-day are 100,783 bus, including 1,367 bbls flour, besides the deliveries by teams, which were very large. We note a dull market and a heavy decline in prices. Early in the day shippers bought to a limited extent at yesterday's closing prices, but after the first despatches from New York reduced their views 1c. The offerings at the decline were very light, and all taken up to the close of 'Change. Later advices from New York, however, being still less favorable, shippers withdrew en toto from the market. No sales could have been made except at a very material reduction from the prices current on 'Change. The last despatches reported wheat 5@6c lower. The report of the Associated Press confirms the private advices. So heavy a decline was quite unlooked for, and should the tendency continue downward to-day it will doubtless create a panic amongst the speculators. The decline is the more astonishing when we consider that upon the first announcement of the Persia's news the market here as well as at the East became very buoyant and advanced 1@2c. The only way we can account for it is that the Anglo Saxon's report which appears to have been suppressed by the Associated Press, must have contained news of a decline, and that the Persia's report—in which it will be remembered that the quotations of wheat and flour were omitted—had reference to the condition of the market at the reduced prices. The New York papers by the next mail will doubtless throw some light on the matter.

Some sales of flour were made yesterday afternoon and this morning at $4,45@4,60 for ordinary to good country Extras, and $5 for fancy City. In the afternoon prices were nominal and lower, but the market was so unsettled that buyers were not disposed to name any figures.

Coarse grains quiet and unchanged.

Grain freights were firm at 1½c for wheat to Buffalo. The north-east wind brought in quite a fleet of vessels during the day, and this together with the unsettled state of the market induced shippers to withhold from making engagements.

SPLENDID WHEAT.

We saw some samples of wheat exhibited on 'Change to-day by G. H. LAMBERTON, which were surprisingly fine. One, a sample of "mammoth" spring from Iowa, is said to yield largely of superior flour. A sample of white spring, from imported "Holland," and grown in Minnesota, is equal to white winter and yields from forty to fifty bushels per acre. And a sample of "Blue Stem" winter, from his own "premium" wheat farm was equal to anything we ever saw.

TIDEWATER RECEIPTS.—The receipts at tidewater on the Hudson, of flour, wheat, corn, and barley, for the 4th week of August 1860 and 1859, have been as follows:

Year.	Flour, bbls.	Wheat, bu.	Corn, bu.	Barley, bu.
1860.....	55200	221700	542800	69800
1859.....	44100	229500	173400	67800
Inc.....	41100	592100	870100	87000

The aggregate of the receipts of the above articles so far for the years 1859 and '60, have been:

	Flour, bbls.	Wheat, bu.	Corn, bu.	Barley, bu.
1860.....	521400	7043600	11384800	107500

Inc.....	277900	5842400	9320400	Dec.44100

Reducing the wheat to flour, the increase in the receipts in 1860 is equal to 1,566,360 bbls flour.

In reference to the market the Press & Tribune says:

The wheat market to-day was again irregular and unsettled. In the early part of the day's Persia, with Liverpool quotations, came in by telegraphed, reporting wheat firm, and flour quiet and steady, and afterward the New York dispatches showed an improvement of 2c there; upon the receipt of which intelligence the market there became buoyant and advanced 1@1½c. Late advices from New York in the afternoon, however, caused a speedy reaction, in which the advance was entirely lost, and the market closed dull—both buyers and sellers holding off for further and more definite information. About 150,000 bus changed hands at 90@90½c for Northern Club; 88@89c for No. 1 Spring; 84@85c for No. 2 do; and 76@78c for Rejected—closing inactive at 84½c for No. 2 Spring. The more market advanced 5@6c under a good demand by shippers. About 4,000 barrels changed hands at $4,45@4,80 for common to choice Spring extras. Corn was quiet and firm, with but limited transactions at 40@40½c for No. 1 at the close, 38½@39c for No. 1; 38@38½c for No. 2; and 35@35½c for Rejected. Oats were more active at 19c for No. 1 in store, and 20½@20½c afloat. Rye 49@49½ for No. 1 in store. Barley was in fair request and firm with sales by sample at 56@70c; 58c for No. 1 in store, and 80@82c for No. 2 in store. Timothy Seed was quiet but firm at $2,20. High wines were dull and drooping—city manufactured being held at 19½c. Broom corn is in good demand by city manufacturers, and good quality was sold to-day at 3½c. Common butter is dull; but good table butter is in active request at full rates. Hides firm.

Vessels are scarce and freights have advanced 1c ₱ bus. Three vessels were engaged at 18@14c for wheat to Buffalo.

MARINE ITEMS.

WAITING FOR FAIR WIND.

Some eight or ten grain laden vessels were moored below Walker's Point Bridge yesterday afternoon, waiting for a change of wind. Amongst them we noticed the barks B. A. Steward, and the schooners G. D. Norris, Perseverance, Richard Mott, Lewis Ludington and Annexation.

THE CALEDONIA.

The Detroit Advertiser asks for information about the schooner Caledonia, recently sunk by collision with some unknown propeller on Lake Huron, and whose crew were brought to this city by the Pelosino. All we know about her is that she was a small vessel owned by Roman Stewart of Chicago, and that she was formerly a lumber vessel, but recently fitted up for the grain trade.

The prop. Mohawk, Capt. Pheatt, reports having met the schr. John H. Dudley on Tuesday evening, abreast of the South Manitou Islands, bound down, all right. The captain says as the schooner took pains to exhibit her name she doubtless wanted him to report her for the information of her owners.

SCHOONER R. B. HUBBARD SUNK.

The Detroit Tribune says:

We learn that the schooner R. B. Hubbard is sunk off
